

Supporting you with your anaesthesia challenges during COVID-19

Anaesthesia can be challenging at any time, anaesthesia during a pandemic brings unique, additional challenges.

Dechra are proud to support the AVA by hosting an educational webinar series, suitable for vets and nurses, helping you to manage anaesthesia effectively in these difficult times.

Each webinar will provide practical advice from some of Europe's leading specialist anaesthetists covering topics including; managing medication shortages, options for analgesia including local analgesia, and what to do when you encounter the unexpected.
